

Experiences on Knowledge Management Shared

Nepal Climate Change Knowledge Management Center (NCKMC) successfully conducted an orientation cum interaction training program on Knowledge Management for the trainees from Staff College, Nepal on 9th June 2022 in Nepal Academy of Science and Technology (NAST). The program was organized as a part of two-day Training on Organizational Learning and Knowledge Management being conducted by the Staff College. The program highlighted the activities on climate change knowledge management and how its learning can be applied in managing the organizational knowledge and learning. In the program, Dr Bimal Devkota, Senior Scientific Officer, NAST welcomed the participants and explained the objectives of the program. Mr Pawan Kumar Neupane, Scientific Officer, NAST highlighted the value of knowledge management and activities of NCKMC at NAST. The participants also watched a short-film on climate change knowledge management in Nepal and expressed their views on challenges and opportunities of knowledge management. Finally, the participants visited the resource center managed by NCKMC. Altogether 17 participants attended the program.

